For my high-fidelity prototype, I created a screen to show what the “Edit” feature would look like on the page. My original iteration was that the “Edit” button will take you back to the product page. I decided to add the “Edit” function to the “My Bag” page so it’s easier to update your buns without having to navigate to another page.

I also added a Wishlist feature so that the user can click on the wishlist image and pull up a modal where they can quickly add the item to cart. I placed it underneath the checkout buttons so that it won’t distract the user from checking out if they want to ignore the wishlist.
